They're more than heroes

They'Re Family

Are you related to our fallen heroes?

They paid the supreme sacrifice, but they were more than just soldiers—they were sons, brothers, cousins, some were even husbands and fathers. Many of them have well documented genealogies. You may not know it, but you might be related. Relative Finder is an online service that can search your family tree to find common ancestors. If you have a free Family Search account, you can login and see which fallen heroes you're related to in the "Cardston's Fallen Heroes" Community Group.

ACT OF REMEMBRANCE

They shall grow not old,
as we that are left grow old:
Age shall not weary them,
nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun
And in the morning
We shall remember them.

Response: "We shall remember them."
